Southwest's Largest Juried Outdoor Art Festival is a Time-Honored Boulder City Tradition

For many Southern Nevadans, a treasured indication that Fall is officially on the way appears as temperatures start to lower, days get a bit shorter and the beloved Boulder City Art in the Park makes its appearance the first weekend of October. Not only is it an art lovers dream come true, it's the 51st Anniversary of this signature fund-raising event by the Boulder City Hospital Foundation with all proceeds going directly to the hospital and underlines its mission to provide the community with quality health care close to home.

The annual event, which draws up to 100,000 visitors, is comprised of a varied and exciting range of artists, craftsmen, culinary delights and live entertainment. It is widely recognized as the largest outdoor juried art festival in the Southwest! This year's event features hundreds of artisans spread throughout the heart of Boulder city amongst its four beautiful parks. It's simply amazing that the Boulder City community has spent the past half century ensuring its residents are provided with superior health care and it all started from humble beginnings in 1962.

Reaching way back to the 1930's when Hoover Dam was a project guided by the WPA, thousands of workers descended upon the area to build one of the major marvels of the world at the time. Due to the strenuous (and often times dangerous) work involved, the Government set up a facility to treat the workers and their families associated with the project.

As the early 50's rolled around, and with the project long done, it was decided by the government to close the facility. When the residents of this quaint, beautiful town heard the news it sent them into a grassroots mode with the sole aim of saving the Hospital and establishing a non-profit resource for its residents. Through hard work and innovative thinking the Women's Hospital Auxiliary organized the first Art in the Park event in 1962 in Ralph and Sarah Denton's back yard to go along with other fund raising events held throughout the year.

As one of the city's largest events, Art in the Park wouldn't be successful without the combined efforts of members of our communities. It is the hard work of the Hospital Auxiliary, Hospital staff, Boulder City Chamber of Commerce, Boulder City Police and Fire Departments, Boulder City Parks and Recreation and the City of Boulder City, who make this festival successful. Everyone who can help comes out to set up the area days before the show. Countless hours of setting up booths, registering hundreds of artist and being sure that every little detail is covered are managed by volunteers from in and around the community.

Fine and traditional art, fine and traditional crafts can all be found at this spectacular event. Guests shop till they drop then gain refreshment at any number of food and beverage booths. Art in the Park always features a variety of food choices from hot dogs, hamburgers, roasted corn on the cob, barbecue sandwiches, Italian, Mexican, Greek, Thai and Chinese fare. And then the desserts and treats... funnel cakes, kettle corn, roasted nuts, fruity bars, frozen treats and more.

Entertainment is a standard at Art in the Park. While strolling the parks and viewing artist works, guests are welcomed to relax in the shade at Bicentennial Park with refreshments while enjoying the stage entertainment from Boulder City's traditional gazebo setting.

Since the inception of the festival every talented artist has donated one original piece to the Art in the Park raffle. That tradition continues today, making every raffle prize a "hot treasure!" Raffle tickets are available at the event booth at the west end of Bicentennial Park. Raffle winners will be notified by phone and may pick up their prizes at the event or at the Boulder City Hospital Foundation office.

Ora Tamir – Featured Artist

The year's program cover and t-shirt design, an enchanting surrealist oil called "Forever", is the work of Featured Artist, Ora Tamir.

Israeli-born Tamir began creating art from the time she was able to hold a pencil. "I just liked to doodle and I always knew that I wanted to be an artist. There was no question that this was what I loved to do." Choosing oil as her medium, Tamir initially painted in a variety of styles, finding inspiration in the masters such as Michelangelo, de Vinci, and van Gogh. "I never took an art class. I didn't like that."

There was no doubt that Tamir's works of art appealed to the public when she was quite young, "I started selling my work when I was 12. Our housekeeper took some of my sketches to the next-door gallery and (she) used to sell them for me. This way I had some spending money." Unfortunately, Tamir's father did not share her belief that creating art could be a way to earn a viable living. "As time went by, my father said 'you better get a profession where you can make money otherwise I will find you in the gutter.' He was Jewish, but of German descent. He was very practical and he made sure I had a profession, which was drafting. I was a drafter for high-rise buildings. Not that it was something I wanted to do, but I had a profession." But she never stopped painting.

A providential visit to New York's Metropolitan Museum of Art when Tamir was 21 introduced her to the work of Spanish Surrealist, Salvador Dali. That very night Tamir dreamed of a child tied to a balloon and grasping her parent's hands, which she immediately sketched. It was her first piece of Surrealism art and she knew she had "crossed into the world of Surrealism for good." Tamir's surreal works appeals to "people who are open minded, intuitive and like to dream."

After becoming an established artist in Israel in her 20's, Tamir immigrated to the United States along with her husband and business manager, Eli, and their three daughters. Art critics raved about her work and she was strongly encouraged by other members of the art community to go on the road and exhibit her work at shows. With her hands full creating works of art and raising three small children, she enlisted the help of her husband. "I sent my husband to the art shows. He would go to an art show and come home empty-handed. Everything started rolling from there."

Tamir and her family returned to her native Israel where she opened her own very successful gallery. After ten years, she and her family returned to the United States, but too much time had passed since her previous success as an artist here. She had to "start all the way from scratch". Unfortunately, Tamir continues, "Having to send three teenagers to college and having to pay bills, I stopped exhibiting and went back to my profession of drafting, so my father's prophecy (of ending up in the gutter) wouldn't come true." Still, she never stopped painting

In 1997 Tamir returned to the art scene, promoting and publishing her mesmerizing Surrealistic works, receiving extensive press and representation by several galleries, and became well-received internationally. "After everyone graduated from college, I decided to go back and show my work again. My husband set up the business in a way that seemed would work as a business model. I was in charge of the art and he was in charge of the business and it worked. Today I'm considered to be a pretty well-known artist. I have a huge, loyal fan club and I enjoy doing what I do best."

In 2011 Tamir published a lavishly illustrated hardbound retrospective memorializing the works of her 40-year career. "The Surreal World of Ora Tamir" is available at her booth in Art in the Park (Booths 199 & 200) and through her website, www.orasart.com.

Tamir paints in solitude, without sounds or distractions. Of this practice, Tamir says, "My art comes from an inner place which might be called 'channeling' or maybe just 'meditation'. I never ask where it comes from or how it comes from. I just do it. I learned to listen to my inner voice. I paint by soul, never bending to trends or criticism."

During Tamir's painting sessions, stories are created and images come to life as each piece evolves and changes until "it feels right". A long labor of love, completing an original painting takes Tamir anywhere from a month, to several years, "The painting is finished when it tells me that we have arrived."

Boulder City Hospital Expanding to Serve You Better

Boulder City Hospital is moving closer to its goal of becoming a full-service “age in place” facility with major expansion and renovation now underway that will better serve our growing senior population while still caring for the basic health needs of Boulder City residents and our valued visitors.

A not-for-profit acute care critical access hospital and skilled nursing facility, the Hospital has achieved the highest scores on all Quality of Care measures for rural hospitals in Nevada while fulfilling its mission to provide high quality health care services in a small town environment.

Our hospital also ranks best in readmission rates, another major quality indicator that means our patients are not discharged until they are well. But the most important grade comes from our patients themselves, who give the Hospital an A+ (98%) in patient satisfaction.

Thanks to a loan from USDA Rural Development, the Hospital will be able to serve even more satisfied patients. The renovation and expansion project will provide a state-of-the-art surgical center, expanded emergency department, enhanced services for physical and occupational therapy and acute inpatient rehab. A brand new geriatric-psychiatric care unit is also under construction to fill the critical need of elder care for mental health.

These additional services will continue to provide individualized care that Boulder City Hospital is known for in a familiar and friendly hometown setting.

During construction, the Hospital remains committed to serving the health care needs of our community, providing 24-hour emergency care, medical surgical and ICU care, skilled nursing, and a full array of ancillary services.

Emergency Services

In an emergency situation, time is of the essence. The Hospital provides quality emergency care with a short wait time. Prompt, courteous, personal and professional care is the cornerstone of our service.

Experienced emergency room physicians and advanced cardiac life support certified nurses have the ability to handle life threatening situations arising from sudden onset of illness, accident or injury. The Emergency Care Facility is open 24 hours a day, seven days a week.

Rehabilitation and Physical Therapy

Boulder City Hospital’s outpatient therapy clinic offers physical and occupational therapy services. Friendly, caring and attentive staff provide individualized exercise programs and therapeutic plans for: neck and back injury; shoulder and arm pain; hand and wrist pain; leg, hip, knee, ankle and foot pain; post-surgical rehabilitation; neurological conditions; balance and gait impairments; TMJ and wound care.

Laboratory Services

Boulder City Hospital’s clinical laboratory’s state of the art in-patient and out-patient services include: chemistry (electrolytes, liver and kidney panels, lipid panels); hematology; coagulation test; transfusion service; thyroid tests and PSA.

Skilled Nursing Facility

It’s no wonder our Long Term Care residents have won the prestigious Oldest Seniors Award for five years in a row at the “90-plus Banquet.” The award-winning longevity of our residents can partly be attributed to the compassionate and warm environment they enjoy.

The Hospital’s team of professionals is dedicated to providing quality of life in a home-like atmosphere. The care team consists of your physician, registered dietitian, social worker, activities director, RN’s, LPN’s and certified nursing assistants.

Other available services include: physical therapy, occupational therapy, speech therapy, respiratory therapy, pharmacy and psychologist consultations.

Daily activities are varied and geared towards meeting the functional and cognitive levels of all the residents.

The facility is approved for Medicare, Medicaid, Blue Cross/Blue Shield and most private insurances.

Home Health Agency

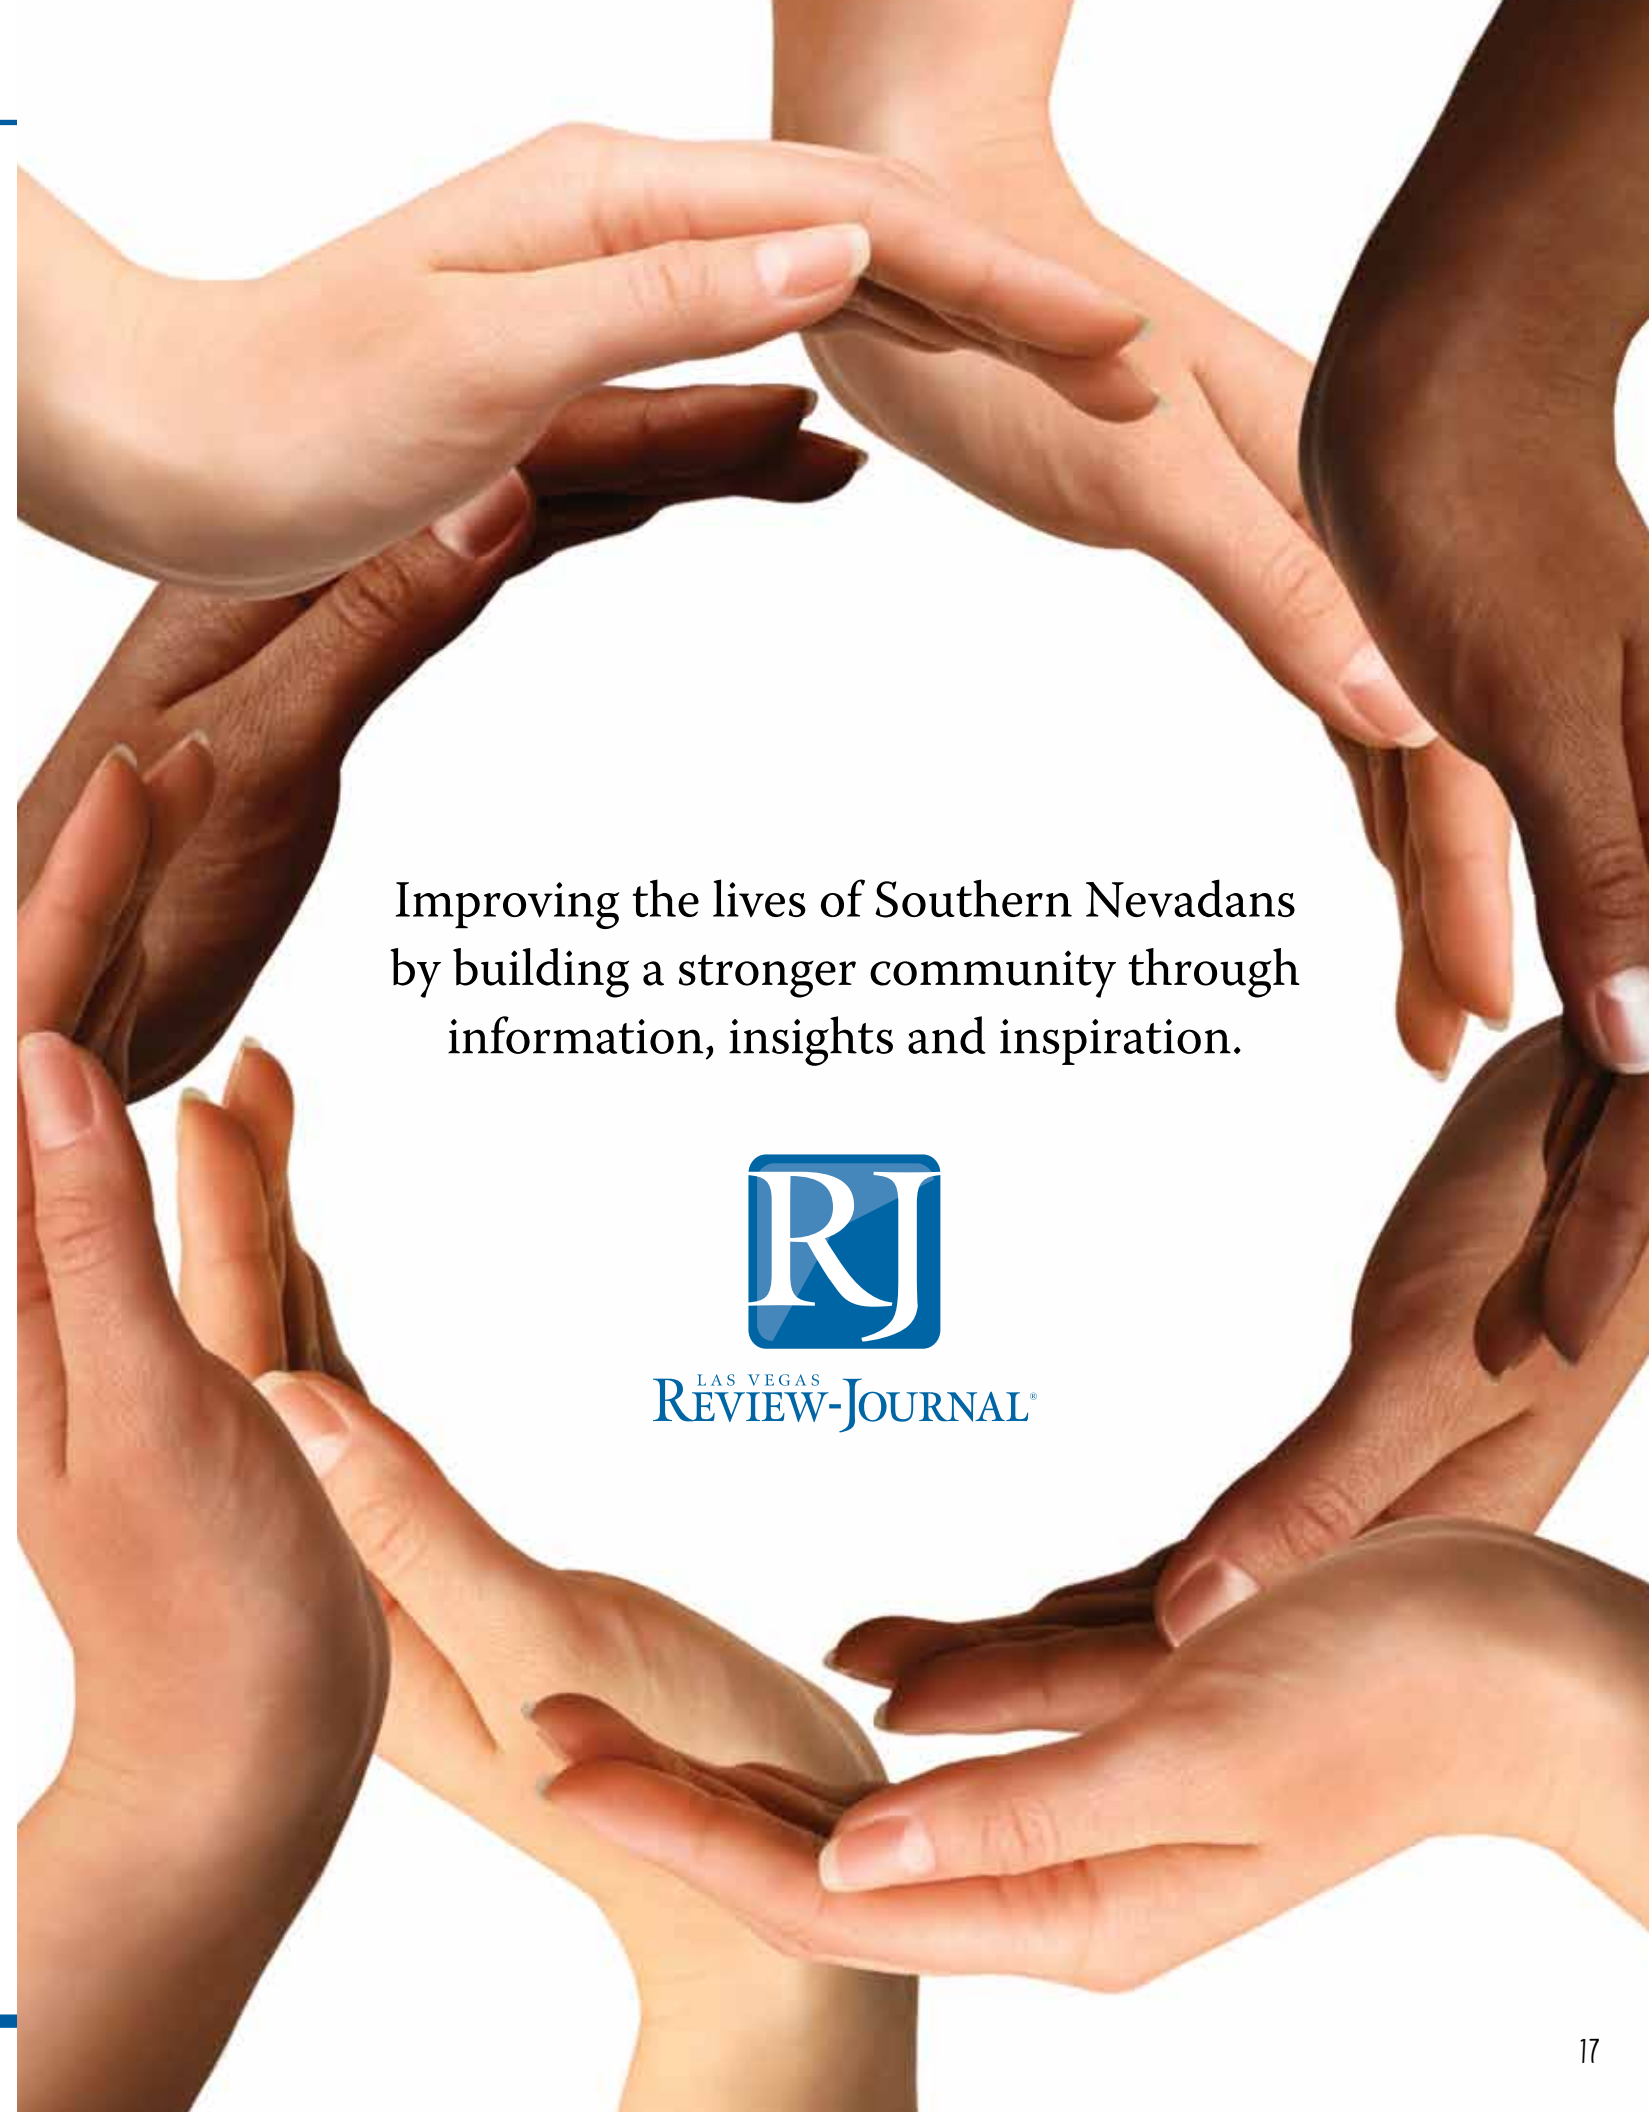

Boulder City Hospital’s Home Health Agency is staffed by caring, qualified professionals working together to provide services to enhance rehabilitation, recovery and independence in the comfort of one’s own home. Our highly trained professionals are qualified to provide the following services: skilled nursing; physical, occupational and speech therapy; medical social worker and home health aide.

Mental Health: Partial Hospitalization Program

Our Partial Hospitalization Program (PHP) for adults meets the needs of people who are able to remain in the community but require additional emotional support. The program provides structured and intensive psychiatric care five days a week.

The PHP is staffed by a multi-disciplinary team that includes psychiatrists, clinical psychologists, social workers, and psychiatric nurses.

Commitment and Community

Boulder City Hospital Foundation

The Boulder City Hospital Foundation is a 501 (c) (3) organization established in 1995, whose purpose is to raise funds for capital equipment and improvements to the non-profit Boulder City Hospital through fund development and special events.

While Art in the Park is the Foundation's Signature fundraising community event, the Foundation is actively involved in civic groups and produces or co-produces events that promote awareness about health, wellness and community issues.

Among these events is the annual Heart of the Community Gala which honors individuals who have made significant cultural impact in our community. Past recipients include Dr. Florence and Gard Jamison, Sarah and Ralph Denton, Darlene and Vern Burk, and Former Mayor Bob Ferraro.

Please mark your calendars and join us at any of our upcoming events:

Passion for Purses, A Saturday Afternoon Tea, February 8, 2014

This event will include an afternoon tea, a silent and live auction featuring designer handbags donated by: Kenneth Cole, Coach, Nine West, Fendi, Valentino Boutique, Award Winning Designer Handbags by Aimee Kestenberg, and a one-of-a-kind ICJ Handbag ~ Created by Claire Jane, and many more.

Heart of the Community Gala Friday, May 16, 2014

The evening's fundraiser will take place at Boulder Creek Golf Club from 6pm to 10pm. Join us for cocktails and live and silent auctions.

52nd Annual Art in the Park, October 4 & 5, 2014
