BOULDER CITY HOSPITAL FOUNDATION ANNOUNCES FEATURED ARTIST FOR IT'S 54th ANNUAL ART IN THE PARK EVENT – October 1 & 2 2016

Boulder City, NV - - Valerie Amon has been named Featured Artist for the Boulder City Hospital Foundation's 54th Annual Art in the Park event. Amon, who hails from Boulder, Colorado, was introduced to art at a very early age when her Mother, Patricia and Grandmother, Helen introduced her to the creative process. While she showed promise both in painting and illustration both during and throughout her high school years, Valerie pursued a more "practical" education and obtained degrees in Public Relations and Advertising from Northern Arizona University. After several unfulfilling years in a corporate environment in Phoenix, Valerie realized her childhood passion for art was as strong as ever and returned to school to pursue a Master's degree in Fine Art at Arizona State University – where she was accepted by her peers despite the fact that she didn't have an undergraduate art degree. After just over a year at ASU, she found that the academic definition of art and her definition of art were totally at odds with each other. By breaking away from the academic "tradition," Valerie was able to develop a unique style based entirely on the influences and mentors she chose.

After spending five years studying and painting in Taos, Valerie and her family decided it was time for another change, and relocated to Boulder, Colorado where she now resides with her husband, Kelly, son Bryce and daughter Maisey. She is currently represented by the Meadowlark Gallery in Billings, Montana, Paradise Gallery in Gardiner, Montana and the La Posada de Santa Fe Resort and Spa in Santa Fe, New Mexico.

Valerie believes in being a perpetual student, reading about or studying with other well-established artists when she can, and painting and sketching outdoors (or in the studio) on a regular basis. She and her Mother, Patricia show and paint (mostly plein-aire) together as often as they can manage. On several occasions, the two have participated in 3-generation shows with Valerie's Grandmother, Helen.

In her first year applying at Art in the Park, Valerie's work impressed the Jury who unanimously chose Amon as the Featured Artist. You can view Valerie's work in booth #155 at this year's Art in the Park event taking place October 1st and 2nd, 2016. Stop by and have her sign your event program book or event t-shirt where her work is proudly featured.
