

Harmon Hanchey

This year's Art in the Park's Featured Artist, Booth #182

Wil Harmon Hanchey Cormier, artist, has been the owner of a fine art gallery in Las Vegas for the past 13 years. In the 1980's and 90's, he was a freelance illustrator in Southern California creating original art as movie posters, book and magazine covers before the days of digitally generated art. Some of the original works were for major movie poster campaigns such as "Home Alone II", "Crocodile Dundee", "Naked Gun I & II", "Harry Potter" and much more. These original works of art are highly collectible and some of which have sold at Sotheby's auction house in New York. For the past two decades he has been selling hiexotic wild life and fantasy art through galleries and to private collectors. His latest works of art, the Harmon Hanchey line, are all hand painted and involves beautiful coloring and very unusual texturing techniques.

The artist also takes personal pleasure in helping a variety of charities such as, The Tucson Sector Border Patrol Memorial, Covenant House for the Children and Mothers in Need, Down Syndrome Children, Disabled American Veterans, Local Schools and Law Enforcement, Louisiana Bar Foundation to help raise money for college tuition and Swimming with Autism by Tammy Anderson in San Diego California.
